

Ecclesiastes I

David L. McIntyre
(1988)

♩ = ca. 76

SA p What does man gain from all his la - bour All his

TB p All his la - bour

Piano p sostenuto

7 mf la - bour_ At which he toils un - der the sun? mf

p

11 p Gen - er - a - tions go, but the earth re - mains for - p Gen - er - a - tions come

15 poco rit. mp

e - ver. The

19 poco rit. mp

sun ris - es and the sun sets,

22 mf

And hur - ries back to where it ris - es.

26

The wind blows to the south and

Wind blows to south

29

turns to the north; round and round it goes,

turns north;

32

E-verre- turn-ing on its course. All the streams flow in - to the sea, — Yet the sea is ne - ver full.

Doo

36

— in - to the sea,

39

To_ the_ place the streams come - from there they_ re - turn a - gain.

mf

43

43

47

All things are wea-ri-some, wea-ri-some, more than one can say. —

52

f The eye ne-ver has e-nough of see-ing,

55

f The ear ne-ver has e-nough of hear-ing, ff What has been will be a-gain,- ff

Ped. —

59

What has been done will be done a - gain; ——— There is noth - ing new ——— un

63

- der the sun.

dim.

dim.

68

ritard.  $\text{♪} = \text{♪}$  etc.

E-ven those to

There is no re-mem-brance of men of old,

ritard.  $\text{♪} = \text{♪}$